

Flair with a side of ferocity and undeniable presence ██████ exudes the quintessential talent that has been missing in the entertainment industry. Her unique essence is undeniable. Her skill and passion for pushing society's median is evident in any and every project she touches. ██████ has cultivated a hybrid of talents that are unrivaled.

Contributing her talents to Miami's 103.5 The Beat, The Source Magazine, Sister 2 Sister Magazine, and most recently NBC Chicago, ██████ has developed a stellar and diverse background in the industry. Whether she is conducting an interview, hosting an event, or expressing her viewpoints through writing, she consistently brings a unique essence and a witty approach to life. With an extraordinary physical presence, ██████ found a hidden talent with burlesque, making each performance confronts our stereotypes placed on women.

Her unique brand offers a fresh take on feminism, and the knowledge of this impact inspired ██████ to help women form the newest generation tap into their own grrrl power. ██████ worked as Program Instructor and Mentor for the "Girl Power Program" where she recognized for her influential work. The prominent, national public education campaign focuses on girls between the ages of 9 to 13 who are susceptible to at-risk behaviors.

██████ dynamic efforts were recently recognized when she won an Emmy for New Media Interactivity. The accomplishment recognizes her contributions as a journalist, and with such talent in so many sectors of the entertainment industry, further recognition will inevitably follow. Her panache for originating experiences that embrace her audience through any medium is exceptional. ██████ has established that she is the fresh standard for the "triple-threat," with journalist/performer/personality following her name. She is sure to be legendary.